

Comparison of Chinese and British School Uniform Culture

陈禹霖 王博想

Contents

Contents

- Chapter 1. History
 - Section 1.1. Initial Stage
 - Section 1.2. The 20th Century
 - Section 1.3. The 21st Century
- Chapter 2. School Uniform System
- Chapter 3. Spirit

Chapter 1. History

Section 1.1. Initial Stage

Section 1.1. Initial Stage

- United Kingdom
- one of the first countries in the world to appear school uniforms
- begins in 1552 with Christ Hospital
- the Victorian era, sailor suit for children

Section 1.1. Initial Stage

- United Kingdom
 - one of the first countries in the world to appear school uniforms
 - begins in 1552 with Christ Hospital
 - the Victorian era, sailor suit for children
- China
 - has ancient roots—Confucian era where students donned simple, uniform attire
 - modern interpretation—Western missionaries

Section 1.2. The 20th Century

Section 1.2. The 20th Century

- United Kingdom
- became more standardized, soft collars, ties, and specific colors
- 1920s, the basic uniform styles we recognize today were established
- Post-World War I, adopt uniforms more widely

Section 1.2. The 20th Century

- United Kingdom
 - became more standardized, soft collars, ties, and specific colors
 - 1920s, the basic uniform styles we recognize today were established
 - Post-World War I, adopt uniforms more widely
- China
 - early 20th century, rise of "gown schools," a significant shift in Chinese educational attire
 - 1950s to 1970s, heavily influenced by adult clothing styles, simple white shirts and blue pants
 - post-economic reforms, 1980s, a resurgence of the school uniform culture, more comfortable and practical sportswear

Section 1.3. The 21st Century

Section 1.3. The 21st Century

- United Kingdom
- some relaxation
- moved towards more casual attire
- ties and black shoes, being replaced with sweatshirts and sneakers

Section 1.3. The 21st Century

- United Kingdom
 - some relaxation
 - moved towards more casual attire
 - ties and black shoes, being replaced with sweatshirts and sneakers
- China
 - sportswear and Western-style attire
 - the sportswear, with school emblems
 - urban and private schools, Western-style uniforms, inspired by Japanese designs, more diverse and school-specific attire

Chapter 2. School Uniform System

Chapter 2. School Uniform System

Chapter 2. School Uniform System

- United Kingdom
- students to wear corresponding school uniforms on different occasions and at different ages
- from the age of three students are required to wear uniforms
- gradually enter adulthood, no longer force
- when and on what occasion to wear Blazer or Jackets or Suits

Chapter 2. School Uniform System

- United Kingdom
 - students to wear corresponding school uniforms on different occasions and at different ages
 - from the age of three students are required to wear uniforms
 - gradually enter adulthood, no longer force
 - when and on what occasion to wear Blazer or Jackets or Suits
- China
 - required to wear uniforms on regular school days
 - from strict to lenient, depending on the school
 - In many schools, wearing a uniform is compulsory
 - in private or international settings, a more relaxed approach, express their individuality

Chapter 3. Spirit

Chapter 3. Spirit

Chapter 3. Spirit

- United Kingdom
- an representation of the school rule and school spirit
- the influence of the powerful Western contract culture
- pay great attention to etiquette in the whole society, wearing shows a person's mental outlook and external temperament

Chapter 3. Spirit

- United Kingdom
 - an representation of the school rule and school spirit
 - the influence of the powerful Western contract culture
 - pay great attention to etiquette in the whole society, wearing shows a person's mental outlook and external temperament
- China
 - a symbol of collective identity and school spirit
 - a sense of belonging and equality among students, regardless of their socio-economic backgrounds
 - educational idea of China, values discipline, unity, and the expression of school culture

THANK YOU